Khaana Ghar Jaisa – How RailRestro Serves Homestyle Food in Train

It is nearly impossible to eat pleasant food during a long journey on a train. You may have to face oily food or unpleasant food. However, everyone likes Khana Ghar Jaisa even during train travel. Here, enters the RailRestro with its specialty in this field to deliver food in train with customization.

People can order familiar food that can be healthy for better comfort during travel. When food is prepared at home, it can be healthy, tasty, and on a low budget. RailRestro understands this requirement in a better way and meets passenger requirements truly just by using their train app or website.

Passengers can collect their homestyle food orders with RailRestro anytime. This article will share the reason behind home-like food in train during travel. It also shares information for the steps involved in ordering and other relevant information.

RailRestro Serving Homestyle Food in Train

Indians like to get a meal even when they are outside their home. That was impossible, but RailRestro made it possible by meeting customers' expectations. They are providing homestyle prepared food in train.

With 2000+ restaurant partners, they are delivering homestyle food to meet customers' specific requirements. They provide food via more than 7,000 trains to over 450 stations. It is possible by using Railrestro's website or train app.

RailRestro Revolutionizing Train Dining

A few years ago, people did not think that they could get fresh food on the train in the middle of their journey. They were dependent on the railway's official catering service provided by pantry cars. So, RailRestro took a step ahead and made train dining possible with fresh and hygienic food using the RailRestro train app.

Changing stereotyping

People had the stereotype that they had to get food from railway catering services and couldn't get food from outside. However, RailRestro has changed it and makes it possible to order food in train from preferred restaurants at 450+ stations in India.

Meeting Customer Food Requirements

RailRestro is preparing Khaana Ghar Jaisa with the help of 2000+ FSSAI-certified restaurants. They provide healthy, hygienic, and customised food to passengers right to their berth.

Variety of Food

They are not just limited to providing homemade food but also offer food varieties to meet each customer's taste requirements. RailRestro will deliver your food in train, whether you ask for veg food, non-veg food, Jain food, tea, coffee, or snacks.

Why do Train Travelers Prioritise Home-Like Food in Train?

People like to get home-like food in train during travel due to different reasons that can be found below.

- A healthier option than pre-packed food: Pre-packed food can lose its freshness or can be with added preservatives. However, homestyle food is made with fresh raw materials that can be healthy with no added preservatives.

- Familiarity and comfort: Home-like food can comfort each individual during travel and allow them to enjoy their journey. Since it is familiar, it allows passengers to enjoy the familiar taste as they order food in train.

Homestyle Food in Train by RailRestro

Passengers may question how RailRestro can make it possible to provide homestyle food just by using their website or train app. So, check the points below that play a key role in making it possible.

- FSSAI-Approved Restaurant Partner: RailRestro ensures that their 2000+ restaurant partners process fresh food. They are available at more than 450 stations to meet customers' diverse needs at different places.
- Customised order: They also consider the customization direction to make home-like food to meet customers' taste buds.
- Fresh and hygienic food: FSSAI-approved restaurant partners ensure that food is fresh and hygienic when passengers order food in train.
- Healthy ingredients: Each restaurant uses only healthy ingredients to make food healthy and avoid losing its taste and freshness.

How does Railrestro work to deliver food in train?

RailRestro prioritizes customer experience to get the best quality food in an easy way. So, check how RailRestro makes it possible.

- Easy and friendly user interface: A Friendly interface can improve customer experience and allow you to order food in train without a second thought.
- Real-time tracking: Passengers can track their food in real time, which can reduce anxiety and improve the experience.
- On-time delivery: It ensures that passengers get their food at their preferred station directly to the berth before leaving the station.
- Customer support: Customers can get instant customer support to solve queries about their food in train, which also improves customer experience.

Source: https://railrestroapp.weebly.com/blog/khaana-ghar-jaisa-how-railrestro-serves-homestyle-food-in-train